

Support for Survivors of Murder-Suicide Project Intern

Agency: Georgia Commission on Family Violence (GCFV)

Location: Hybrid (remote with some in-person outreach and community events)

Commitment: One semester | 10–15 hours/week

Compensation: Yes - $3,000 per semester/Course Credit Available

About the Position

GCFV is seeking a compassionate and detail-oriented intern to support the Support for Survivors of Murder-Suicide (SSMS) Project. This role focuses on survivor identification, outreach, and community engagement, offering meaningful exposure to trauma-informed work, systems collaboration, and victim services.

What You'll Do

- Assist with identifying and locating survivors through case documentation and interagency communication
- Support outreach efforts, including drafting materials and helping connect survivors to services
- Help gather and organize data related to murder-suicide incidents
- Contribute to outreach communications (social media content, flyers, presentations, PSA drafts)
- Attend community events, vigils, and outreach activities to support program visibility
- Observe SSMS presentations and, when appropriate, client interactions (education-level dependent)
- Brainstorm creative ways to reach survivors and raise community awareness
- (If skills align) Support survivor-centered storytelling projects, such as videos or digital content

Who You Are

- Current college or graduate student (criminal justice, social work, communications, psychology, or related field)
- Compassionate, professional, and trauma-informed (or eager to learn)
- Strong organizational and communication skills
- Comfortable working with sensitive topics and confidential information
- Interested in victim services, advocacy, or community-based prevention

What You'll Gain

- Hands-on experience in survivor-centered, trauma-informed work
- Exposure to multidisciplinary systems (law enforcement, advocacy, public health)

- Mentorship from experienced program staff
- Insight into postvention as prevention and homicide-related survivor support

Apply: Resume + brief cover letter

 kylee.elliott@gcfv.ga.gov